Three Hundred Years Old

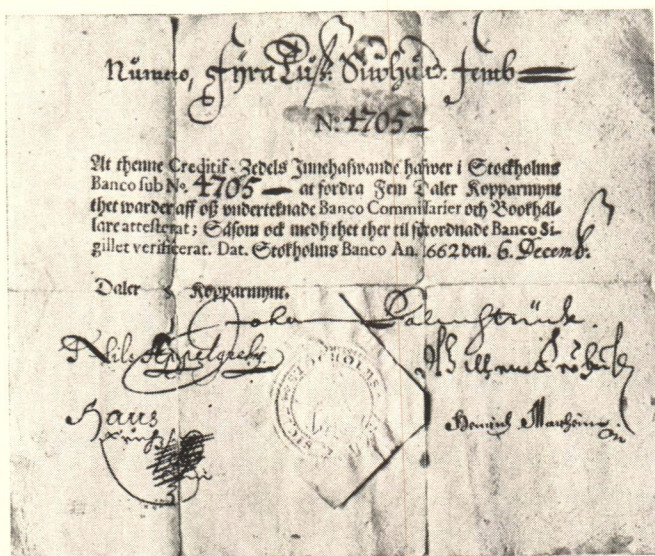

SWEDISH BANK NOTES

By

CHARLES ELLSWORTH

THAT greenback you just put in your pocket, wallet, or purse — or, more likely today, took out of the same — is the most recent example of a European custom that began exactly three hundred years metal coins made of silver or copper and called "daler." This old Swedish term is one of the ancestors of the present-day American word "dollar." Four years after the Palmstruch Bank was started, and ago in Sweden: the use of paper money, or bank notes, as legal tender. Actually, the first recorded use of paper money took place in China, where paper came from originally, sometime during the Second Century A.D. The origin of bank notes in Sweden is in turn linked with the founding in 1668 of the country's national bank, the Riksbank, oldest central bank in the world.

Sweden's first bank, however, known as Stockholm's "Banco" or the Palmstruch Bank, after its founder Johan Palmstruch (1611-1671), was started in 1656. Legal tender at that time was specie or a sizeable sum of copper coins had been deposited, a new decree providing for less copper in the coins caused a run on the Bank's deposits. The reason was a great rush by depositors to withdraw the older copper coins from the Bank, and hence out of circulation, because of their higher value. These pieces were some ten to fifteen times larger and heavier than the American cents of today.

Faced with the distrust in the value of the newer coins, and mindful of the confidence the depositors had in his Bank, Johan Palmstruch in 1661 applied for, and received, permission for Stockholm's "Banco" to issue bank notes, called at that time literally "credit notes." These were printed statements, numbered, signed, and stamped with the seal of the Bank, declaring that payment in the indicated amount of specie would be made by the Bank on demand. The denominations were in even amounts, and the notes were somewhat similar in size and appearance to the present hundred and fifty crown (kronor) Swedish bank notes. Payment was to be partly in silver and partly in copper "daler."

The next step was to issue bills in the larger denomination of one hundred silver "daler." These were called "transport notes," because they were issued to a specific person, who in turn could "transport" this sum by endorsing the note over to a third person. In this way Johan Palmstruch hoped to remedy the inconvenience of the existing shortage of copper coins. His measures were partially successful, but other complications developed, such as counterfeiting, and depreciation in the value of the bills.

In 1663 the first counterfeit bank note was made and successfully passed. The culprit, a young boy, was promptly caught and punished. An example of his enterprise and ingenuity is preserved today in the Royal Numismatic collection, which collection, unfortunately, cannot show an example of the genuine article from the first, or 1661, series of bank notes.

The saying "not worth a Continental" as it was applied to the depreciated currency issued by the Continental Congress during the American Revolution, might possibly have been anticipated in Sweden a little more than a century earlier but for an audit of Stockholm's "Banco" in 1664 which revealed that Johan Palmstruch was responsible for a shortage of 62,000 silver "dalers" of the Bank's deposits. This brought an end to his banking career, and a stop for some years in the issuing of bank notes. Johan Palmstruch was put on trial, sentenced, and imprisoned in 1668, but he was pardoned and released two years later. He died destitute.

This audit helped to bring about Sweden's national bank. What has since become the world's oldest bank of issue, the Swedish Riksbank, was founded in 1668 rather inauspiciously on what had been Stockholm's "Banco." For several years it issued only specie or coins. In 1701, however, bank notes were again taken up, and they became general legal tender in the country in 1726.

In 1939 Sweden's highest denomination, the ten thousand crown note was issued. A second design was introduced in 1958. As recently as 1932, all thousand crown notes carried handwritten signatures of two officials of the Swedish Riksbank.

In 1960 Sweden began using rotary presses to print bank notes. The application of the rotary technique to bank note printing was developed with German printing presses in co-operation with experts from the Bank of England. Swedish one hundred, fifty, ten, and five crown notes are printed by this method, while ten thousand and one thousand crown notes are not affected by the new printing technique.

NEW INFORMATION ON MONEY OF HAWAII

A year or so ago The Numismatist published my article on "Money of Hawaii." It seems appropriate to keep your readers up to date concerning new information on the subject.

In the article, I stated, "Listing of the 12½¢ piece in platinum and nickel may reflect the existence of such items, but I do not recall ever having seen either of them." I can now report having seen the platinum 12½¢ piece dated 1883. Further, I have now seen the 1884 quarter in platinum and 1884 half dollar in platinum. The design is similar to that used for the coinage of 1883. Each of the platinum pieces was represented to be unique.—A. KOSOFF

U. S. COMMEMORATIVE COINS OUTSTANDING

By

STEPHEN D. RUDDEL, A.N.A. 33166

EVER SINCE 1892 when our first commemorative coin was issued, there has been much confusion among numismatists as to mintage figures. These pieces were issued in twenty-five cent to fifty dollar denominations in silver and gold. Practically all pieces were sold by private nonprofit organizations as a means of raising funds.

Very often the mints would strike more pieces than could be sold to the public. These pieces were then melted, thereby reducing the total number of outstanding pieces. A total of 18,237,550 commemorative coins were struck during the sixty-three year period from 1892 to 1954. Of these, 8,488,995 were melted at the Mint, leaving the total number of 9,748,555 outstanding.

Connecticut Tercentenary Half Dollar.

Until now, only incomplete reports and information on the number of commemoratives remaining after melting down of certain issues have been available to collectors. Now that an official compilation of data has been made by the U. S. Mint, little is left in doubt.

A Guide Book of U. S. Coins by R. S. Yeoman has kept up to date with such information as was to be had through the years. Comparing the figures listed in that catalog with those in the Mint report shows that the Guide Book figures have been amazingly accurate. After study and comparison of the two, I find that significant differences appear in the number of these pieces still outstanding:

COMMEMORATIVE COINS	GUIDE BOOK	MINT RECORDS
$1.00 Gold Pan-Pacific	25,000	15,000
50¢ 1936 Delaware Tercentenary	25,015	20,978
50¢ 1936 Norfolk	15,000	16,923

There are also differences in the total number of Oregon Trail, Texas, Boone and Arkansas commemoratives outstanding. When some of these pieces were melted down, however, no record of dates and mints was kept.

A most significant and meaningful part of this new report is the radical difference in the number of Booker T. Washington and the Booker T.

Stephen D. Ruddell, Arlington, Va., offers new and accurate information on our commemorative coins based on a recent U. S. Mint report showing the number of these pieces authorized, coined and melted.

Washington-George W. Carver pieces still outstanding as shown in the Yeoman catalog and the Mint records:

COMMEMORATIVE COINS	GUIDE BOOK	MINT RECORDS
Washington total	3,091,205	1,705,432
Washington-Carver total	2,422,392	1,206,588

These were for a very long time unpopular with collectors, attributable to the fact that only two designs of these coins were issued continuously for nine years for a total of thirty different dates and mint marks. In fact, they were so unpopular that until about two years ago their market prices remained at nearly the same level as when originally sold. Since then, certain years and mints have reflected some scarcity. This new report shows, however, that many dates in the Washington and Washington-Carver series are rarer than thought to be.

Since no record of melted pieces by dates and mint marks was kept, only time and the numismatic market will reveal the actual rarities among our commemorative coins. But with the information now revealed for the first time in the following U. S. Mint compilation and report, collectors have an accurate and authoritative source on which to depend.

Abbreviations used in the table and their meanings are: (g) for gold; (s) for silver; P for Philadelphia; D for Denver; SF for San Francisco mints; oct. for octagonal; rnd. for round.

LATIN AMERICAN PORTRAITS

COURTNEY L. COFFING, A.N.A. No. 14439

Mariano Melgarejo

"Nobody is going to rule in Bolivia but me."

Bolivian 1865 boliviano, Potosi Mint

Mariano Melgarejo was born in the Department of Cochabamba on April 15, 1820, in Tarata, formerly Upper Perú, now known as Bolivia. His parentage is uncertain, although it is believed he was the natural son of Lorenza Valencia and Ignacio Melgarejo. He did not receive proper training as a child, though he was deeply loved by his mother. It is believed the stigma of illegitimacy hurt him deeply. Perhaps a sociologist would trace the cause of his future actions to his early home life. At the age of nine he ran away from home to join the army. He distinguished himself in the battles of Montenegro and Ingavi.

He married Rosa Rajos of Cochabamba when she was quite young. It has been said she was much too good for him.

Belzu was succeeded as president by General Jorge Córdoba (1822-1861), who had married Belzu's daughter. In 1858 Córdoba was driven into exile by José María Linares (1810-1861), who served from March, 1858, to January, 1861. The latter was deposed by General José María de Achá (1805-1868). He was overthrown by Melgarejo in February, 1865.

On March 27, 1865, Belzu returned to lead a revolt against Melgarejo.

A great crowd gathered in front of the Palace to see the meeting of the men. Belzu was shot by Melgarejo, who addressed the crowd, "Belzu is dead. Now who are you shouting for?" The mob echoed, "Long live Melgarejo."

Melgarejo was perhaps the most depraved ruler in all South America. He was audacious, had no scruples, showed contempt for legal restraints and private rights. He was cruel, misused public funds, and was oftentimes a terrifying drunk.

On August 6, 1868, a national assembly met, approved all his administrative acts, and promulgated a new constitution, which replaced that of 1861. Following this, at a banquet he made the following speech: "I want the gentleman who has just spoken and all the honorable deputies gathered here to know that I have put the Constitution of 1861, which was very good, in this pocket (pointing to his left trouser pocket) and that of 1868, which is even better, in the opinion of these gentlemen, in this pocket (indicating his right pocket) and that nobody is going to rule in Bolivia but me." The Constitution of 1868 was the ninth constitution for Bolivia since 1826.

He once said, "I'll rule Bolivia as long as I feel like it and anybody who tries to stop me will find himself strung up in the nearest plaza." Once in leading a skirmish his troops balked. He yelled, "Follow me, Cuirvassiers, or I'll blow my brains out." They followed. He performed astonishing feats of bravery — Chapman said he lacked the brains to be afraid.

When he heard that war had broken out between France and Prussia in 1870, he called out his troops, said, "You are going with me across the ocean. So, be careful and not get your ammunition wet." A few miles of marching in the rain were sufficient to sober him up.

To prove to a visiting emissary the high point of discipline of the Bolivian soldier, one time he called in the guard and ordered them to jump from the windows. That several broke their legs was of little significance to him.

Melgarejo became a slave of strong drink and women. When sober it was said he was gracious and possessed a charming personality. He was generous, compassionate, sympathetic, and chivalrous. When under the influence of drink, he was subject to "Acts of moments of orgies fit only for the brothel." He was cruel in the extreme.

It is said he didn't know when his birthday was, so he always celebrated it in Holy Week. And to the drinking parties he always brought his beer-drinking horse. Melgarejo was known as the "Nero of Bolivia," a grotesque tyrant, and his term in office has been called "Seven years of moral depravity."

It is related that a widow, Doña Juana Sánchez, appealed to him for a pension on the death of her father and became his mistress — one of the most famous in history. Although he had been withholding funds from her, soon he was to be criticized for squandering public funds on her. To increase her favor with the local ladies, Melgarejo imprisoned many of the women's husbands, sent priests to administer the last sacraments of the church to them, at which time Juana would plead for their lives and he would turn them loose. This would endear her to the hearts of the ladies, thus making friends. At all male gatherings of Melgarejo's friends, Juana would appear nude before them at his orders, so she could be admired. She was very beautiful, and any uncalled-for comments were kept at a minimum by his ever-present revolver. Sober or drunk, his aim never failed. When Melgarejo had to leave town for a few days, he would put Juana in the local convent, to keep her out of circulation.

Another mistress was Ignacia Belzaba, of Cochabamba, by whom he had two daughters. One was Valentina, who married José Aurelio Sánchez, also a drunken, murdering fiend.

A legitimate son and daughter of Melgarejo married the sister and brother of Juana.

Melgarejo was described as possessing a powerful physique, with high cheek bones and deep-set eyes. He had a receding forehead, flowing black beard, a big nose and heavy sensuous lips. He had four main likes — liquor, women, gambling, and gluttony. On the one hand, he was friendly, fond of stories and jokes. On the other, he was a disloyal, lying, tricky, false, homicidal maniac.

Mariano was the strongest of the Bolivian dictators. The explanation of his actions is not for the historian, but rather for the psychologist or sociologist. He was responsible for an "ism," melgarejism, implying a people who submit to crimes, wrongs, and persecutions rather than fight or assert themselves. He was a complete dictator, a good leader, allowed liberalism, and even sought to wipe out the boundaries of all South America, to have the one continent as one country.

In January, 1871, Melgarejo fled to Chile rather than have his Juana's life risked by his forces attacking La Paz. Word had reached him she would be killed if he entered the city. He returned to La Paz broke. Juana refused to see him. On November 23, 1871, he forced his way into the house when José Sánchez shot and killed him. Sánchez was later acquitted. The passing of Melgarejo caused a sensation, but no sympathy.

Some six coins, at least, bore the portrait of Melgarejo — all while he was in office:

A.N.A. 1961 Convention

THE ATLANTA STORY

By

JEAN BRADFELD, A.N.A. No. 22333

LITTLE wonder that the seventieth annual convention of the American Numismatic Association in Atlanta, Ga., August 16 to 19, 1961, broke registration records with 1504 registrants and banquet records with 545 attending. This charming and romantic city and its citizens captured the hearts of all visitors.

My heart skipped a beat when, riding a bus, I saw not one but several men offer their seats to women passengers. Apparently this graciousness is a part of growing up, as evidenced by a little boy who gave up his seat for an elderly gentleman. Imagine my amazement when someone accidentally bumped into me on the street and said "Excuse me." No, it isn't because things move slower in the South — people step along briskly and go about their business much the same as in other parts of the United States; it's because being polite and courteous is as much a part of living as breathing! And these same qualities were very much in evidence in our hosts — from the George M. Todds to the newest member of the local clubs.

From the Tuesday night "Get acquainted social hour" to the Saturday night banquet finale, several organized parties and numerous private gatherings marked the gaiety and friendliness of the convention. Old friends were everywhere and new acquaintances were made freely and easily.

It was good to see the old timers and regular conventioners again but sad, too, to realize that some would never again be present at an A.N.A. convention — J. Henri Ripstra, George J. Bauer, Nate Gold, Paul Schilling, to name a few. Others were absent because of illness, as the new A.N.A. first lady, Mrs. C. C. Shroyer and William Philpott, Jr. We wish them a speedy recovery and look forward to seeing them soon.

Nearly all of the A.N.A. official family were present. Yes, the future of the national organization is secure in the hands of capable and dedicated leaders. The transfer of the administration was accomplished smoothly and without a hitch by Retiring President O. H. Dodson and President C. C. Shroyer.

Party-wise, besides the Tuesday evening "opener," the hosts gave a pre-banquet Saturday social hour. The Professional Numismatists Guild offered buffet lunch and dinner to its members and invited guests at its pre-convention gathering on

Ralph Cleaver, Zebulon Pike CC President, suggested the four million dollar, twenty-three acre, Trianon Palace in an exclusive section of Colorado Springs, Colo., as possible A.N.A. headquarters. At the Thursday business meeting, he said land and building could be obtained for about $650,000. This illustration shows the terrace facing the formal gardens.

Tuesday and a cocktail party before the Saturday banquet.

Among the private "soirees" undoubtedly the "party of the year" was that of the Blaise Dantones, from the novel, thin cigarette lighter bearing the invitation on one side and a map showing the route from the Atlanta-Biltmore hotel to their residence on the other, to the "Good nights" of departing guests. Three hundred twenty-two guests reached the Dantone home by auto, cab or chartered buses, the latter courtesy of PNG. At the new ranch home with its terraced swimming pool, stately trees and beautiful lawn the visitors were cordially welcomed by the host and hostess and their charming daughter Sarah Alice. Mr. Dantone, attorney and former auto racing hobbist, is today one of America's leading coin dealers whose Peachtree Coin Shop is mecca for numismatists in the Atlanta area.

The setting formed an exquisite background for several cocktail bars and hors d'oeuvres tables conveniently located on the grounds. Gulf shrimp, Georgia finger crabs and succulent barbecued ribs, as well as an assortment of cheeses, were given a distinctive character and appeal by tiny Confederate flags mounted on toothpicks. After a leisurely buffet dinner of golden brown Southern fried chicken, roast beef, Brunswick stew, string beans with slivered almonds, asparagus with sauce, bib lettuce, relishes, fruit bowl of sliced melon, Georgia peaches, blueberries and strawberries the size of plums, French pastries and coffee, diners returned to the terrace and sauntered through the gardens. Sarah Alice and I shared a mutual love of horses and riding while she escorted me through her doll house in a corner of the grounds surrounded by beautiful trees. She is proud of her doll collection and of the doll wardrobe made by her mother but is a sweet and unspoiled young lady.

As for the convention entertainment, neither man, woman nor child was overlooked. Tours for all were arranged.

A.N.A. Governor John J. Pittman, chairman of the Newell Visual Education Committee, tells the business meeting of slide activities during the last fiscal year.

Advertising Manager S. W. Freeman reports on ad revenues for the fiscal year.

Newly elected A.N.A. President C. C. Shroyer, I., and Georgia Governor Ernest Vandiver talk coins with Retiring President O. H. Dodson at the banquet.

There was the visit to the Cyclo-rama, the famed third dimension painting of the 1864 Battle of Atlanta that is fifty feet high, four hundred feet in circumference and weighs eighteen thousand pounds. The battle that doomed the Confederate States of America is made lifelike and realistic by lighting, sound effects and illusion.

Stone Mountain, familiar to numismatists because of the commemorative half dollar, is the largest exposed granite formation in the world, some eight hundred feet high and seven miles in circumference. Sponsor of this gratis tour was the DeKalb Coin Club.

The free trip to the Kennesaw Mountain battlefield was through the courtesy of the Marietta Coin Club. Here was also the impressive Kennesaw Battle-Rama made up of thousands of hand made and hand painted miniature soldiers, cannon, horses, etc.

Preparing for the trip to Dahlo-nega Thursday morning, I was slipping on a dress over my shorts and sun back top when my husband left and locked the hotel behind him. Yes, you guessed it! By locking the door from the outside, he very effectively locked me on the inside. Had it not been for young Sam Freeman who phoned to warn me the bus was about to leave, I surely would have missed out on a real highlight of the convention.

Although the distance to Dahlonaga was seventy-two miles, it was most pleasant. On our bus Lois Cole led the passengers in singing favorite Dixie songs as we rolled along the highway, skirted by vine-covered trees against the Blue Ridge Mountains backdrop. After a fast stop at the ghost town of Auraria, three busloads of hungry people ate ham, chicken, noodles, creamed corn, lady peas, turnip greens, rice, okra, corn bread; biscuits and apple cobbler at Bill Fry's Smith House Restaurant in Dahlonaga. On view in the Dahlonaga Library is a set of the local U. S. Mint's gold pieces presented by Henry Alexander.

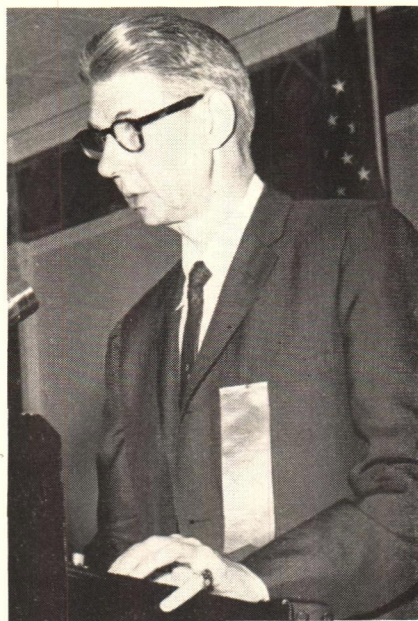

Gold panning is most interesting but there's an art to it. Old sourdoughs can take a pan and one, two, three - there's gold. But novices such as I spend most of their time getting down to the bottom of the pan. Bill Fry explained that "Panning gold is like patting your head and rubbing your stomach at the same time. If you can't do that, you can't pan gold." Now you know! Well, I for one bought my gold dust!

Mrs. S. W. Freeman, weary of gold seeking, took the first bus back to town, but her son Sam and I had "gold fever" and stayed behind hoping to strike it rich. Finally we had to tear ourselves from the hunt and dash for the last bus. Then, in a panic, I realized my dress was aboard the first bus safely tucked away in Lucy Freeman's tote bag! Upon reaching the Biltmore, I sneaked in the back way. Oh, well!

Saturday's "rubberneck" tour of the city was the most fascinating. Founded in 1837, Atlanta is steeped in history and legend, and is perhaps best known to the American public because of the late Margaret Mitchell's Gone with the Wind. Of more than passing interest are the Governor's mansion, Sherwood Forest where streets are named after Robin Hood characters, the handsome residential areas, Georgia Tech and Grant Field stadiums, Techwood Drive housing project, Spellman

This year's Educational Program was superb and played to a rapt audience. Featured were Mrs. Russell Cunningham's "Story of Dahlonaga," scheduled for Numismatist publication; Herbert Bergen's "California Gold and the Civil War," also to be published; Grover Criswell's appropriate illustrated talk on "Confederate Notes and Bonds"; and Eric P. Newman's rationalization of "The 1804 Dollar Problem," part of which appeared in the October Numismatist.

Besides the hospitality room, open and serviced daily, visiting women were royally treated. Wednesday evening a delightful fashion show in the Atlanta-Biltmore was moderated by the tall, blonde Dean Dickens, beautiful in her white fox stole and blue, deep crowned, portrait hat. Themes of the show were small furs, single skins and hats — forecast of the new season presented by Muse's, "Style Center of the South."

It was Rich's on Saturday morning for Continental breakfast and another fashion show. The theme was ultra feminine, subtle makeup, short but feminine length hair styles, smooth silken locks with an occasional wisp of hair over the forehead or the cheek. Curliness is absent. Displayed were textured wools and knit Jersey, and a quiet combination of silk and sheer wool; trumpet skirt dresses and voluminous coats with the color red predominant.

For the younger set, teen-agers had fun at a roller skating derby.

President Dodson, r., bestows the A.N.A. Medal of Merit on William Worth for outstanding service to the Association.

One could dance between skating rounds but the boys outnumbered the girls and there's no fun dancing with boys — unless you're a girl!

Young children were not forgotten, either. Under the tutelage of Thelma Carter, they were taken on a tour of the Wren's Nest (Joel Chandler Harris's home); Mathis Dairy ("Drive Carefully. Cattle Crossing! That Ole Bull Is Some Cow's Beau"; the Snow Room, and real snowballs; Maternity Ward; Bull Lounge; the pet sheep "Wooley"; even a Loafing Barn where the cows may rest and eat leisurely; pony rides); and then to Storyland (twenty-one nursery rhyme characters brought to life — Jack and Jill, Three Little Pigs, Old Woman Who Lived in a Shoe — and amusement rides, too).

And in Grant Park there are "pink elephants" — a real Georgia henna-job in gigantic proportions. It's easy, if you're an elephant, and have a backyard where you can roll in real Georgia red soil!

Bourse and exhibits were above even the high standards one has come to expect from A.N.A. conventions and both were highly satisfactory in size, lighting and accessibility. Registration desks, programming and banquet arrangements were handled in fine style, thanks to the thorough work of the hosts and hostesses.

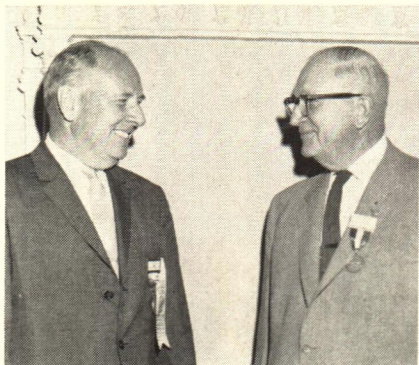

I wish I had space to mention all the ladies I was fortunate enough to meet who worked so diligently to put over this convention, such as Mrs. Robert C. Davis, Mrs. Annette Cook, Miss Mabel Cook, Mrs. Leroy D. Martin, Mrs. H. G. Cole and Mrs. Annie Harrison, but I can't. I must steal one more line, Mr. Editor, for Miss Margaret McCauley's publicity campaign that played such an important part in "getting the show on the road." If there was a soul left in Atlanta or anywhere else in this broad land of ours who did not know of this convention either through the press, periodicals, house organs, radio or TV, that person was either deaf, dumb, blind, illiterate — or sound asleep! She even ordered from the Weatherman fine

Formal close of the convention came with the Saturday night banquet, launched on a high note by the presentation of a check for $220.00 for the A.N.A. building fund realized in James Kelly's auction of two Presidential medals donated by Presidential Art Medal, Inc. Purchaser was George Maples of Fort Walton Beach, Fla. (Earlier, at a business session, Edwin W. Williams contributed $100 and the Zebulon Pike Coin Club gave $208 to the building fund.)

Pittman, John S. Hill, Max M. Schwartz; rear row, l. to r., John J. Ford, Jr., Herbert M. Bergen, James C. Wobensmith and Harold M. Klein. Acting Chairman Pittman presided in the absence of Chairman J. Hewitt Judd. Other committee members are Lewis M. Reagan, Glenn Smedley, William Philpott and Ellis Edlowitz.

George M. Todd, at r., receives the Good Fellowship plaque from General Secretary Lewis M. Reagan in recognition of service as A.N.A. Convention General Chairman.

Apologies for the scrambled cutlines of these A.N.A. officers which inadvertently occurred in the October Numismatist. Correct identification is shown here.

Recent Gold Prices — There has been a growing interest in gold coins in Europe, arising largely out of the Berlin situation. In the early part of July, the old sovereign, more difficult to acquire than the new Queen Elizabeth coin, was being quoted at about $9.55-9.60; but during the week ended August 19, it fetched as much as $9.85-9.90, a level as high as, if not higher than, that attained during the "gold rush" last October. The new sovereign, which also has a gold content of $8.23, rose from $9.48 on August 9 to $9.67 on August 18. A large number of these coins are sold in Zürich, whence many find their way to France and Belgium. The Middle East and Greece are also extensive buyers.

JAPANESE COINS FOR INDONESIA

By

H. F. BOWKER

THE Republic of Indonesia is very much in the news, and doubtless a few notes on the little-known series of coins issued during the Japanese occupation of that area during World War II, which appear to have passed unnoticed and unrecorded by the numismatic press, may be of interest.

One of the measures taken by the Japanese armies after the over-denomination at the center in the five and ten sen obverses and below the head on the obverse of the one sen. Later mintings of all denominations dated "2604" (1944) were also struck, but it is not known that they ever reached Indonesia.

The figure "1" is superimposed on an ornamental background, while the figures "5" and "10" are on plain fields with ornaments at right throw of the Dutch administration in Indonesia was the well-known series of paper currency of eight varieties of seven denominations ranging from one cent to ten guildens and three of ten, one hundred and one thousand roepiah. But not so well known is that the Japanese also prepared a special series of aluminum coins of one, five, and ten sen for circulation in this area. These were first minted in 1943 and bear that date in the style of the Japanese dynastic chronology which was introduced by the chauvinistic military administration then in power, "2603." These coins were all inscribed Dai Ni Hon (Japan) in Kanji characters above the large Arabic figures of and left. The reverses have no inscriptions. The unit denomination has only the head of the same figure shown on the two higher denominations, believed to be that of Bhima, a character from the Hindu epic Mahabharata, in the form of a marionette for the native Wayang Golek shadow drama, a very popular form of entertainment in Indonesia. The rods attached to the hands and feet by which the figure is manipulated in the puppet show can be seen on the higher denominations. Two conventional Japanese cherry blossoms are at the right and left.

It is reported that all of the two lowest denominations shipped from Japan to Indonesia were lost at sea by the sinking of their carriers by American submarines, and that only the "10" denominations ever reached Indonesia and were circulated there.

It is not definitely established whether the denominations of this series of coins are expressed in cents or sen, but it is believed that they were the latter, the fractional unit of the roepiah that was introduced into Indonesia by the Japanese to supersede the gulden.

The following recapitulation indicates which specimens have been seen by the writer:

	date	date	notes
	2603	2604
1 sen	o	*	*specimens seen
5 sen	o	*	orubbing seen
10 sen	*	*	reeded edge

The illustrations of these coins are taken from rubbings published in the Japanese numismatic journal Sen Dan, No. 61, p. 3, August, 1956. A specimen of the 10 sen dated "2604" is in my collection.

Book Reviews

Texas Confederate County Notes and Private Scrip, by Hank Bieciuk and H. G. "Bill" Corbin, 1961. Published by the authors, 112 pp., stiff paper covers, 171 illus., $2.95.

Quoting from the introduction, "While the field of obsolete currency has grown by leaps and bounds during the past few years, the growth of information on this subject has been noticeably negligible. This book, by no means complete, represents the first complete listing of all known Texas county, city and private scrip notes."

The above statement is true, in spite of at least two books and the listing of notes by states in several magazines during the last five years. The authors have cataloged notes of ninety-one counties, five cities, and fifty-five individuals and business firms, with rarity indication of each and illustrations of many. Pricing is accomplished by giving a price range for each rarity number — thus rarity 3 is priced at $7.50 to $10.00, while rarity 10 (the scarcest) is $50 to $150. Possibly to satisfy those who look at the ending of a book before reading the contents, the rarity listing is on the final printed page.

This book is a real contribution to the literature on what may be termed "necessity" money of the Civil War period. Those interested in paper money, Americana, and the history of Texas should acquire the book, but with the knowledge that it does not include issues of the Republic and State of Texas. — GLENN S.

Criswell's Currency Series, Volume II, Confederate and Southern State Bonds, by Grover C. Criswell, Jr., and Clarence L. Criswell, 1961, illustrated, $10.00.

Collectors of "fiscal paper" of the Confederacy and Southern States, and students of the Civil War period in general will welcome this new book. It is well known that Criswell's has been acquiring such material and compiling related information for quite a few years. Since records relating to the financial operations of the Confederacy are incomplete and often vague, a careful study of the extant bonds was of prime importance in compiling such a book.

Besides a 310-page descriptive and illustrated listing of the bonds of the Confederacy (including four counterfeit and one bogus), bonds of twelve southern states, the Territory of Florida and the Republic of Texas, the book contains a two-page preface and five pages of color plates of typical bonds. Each bond listed is given a rarity number and current market values are furnished on a supplemental sheet.

The book is printed on high-quality paper and has durable and attractive board covers. Illustrations are large enough to permit reading nearly all the text of most bonds. This reviewer notes one technical error which does not detract from the value of the book. In frequent cases, a simple framed portrait on a bond is referred to as a "vignette," which Webster defines as "any picture which shades off gradually." We are pleased to note that most portraits are identified and the producers of the bonds named. — GLENN S.

Obituaries

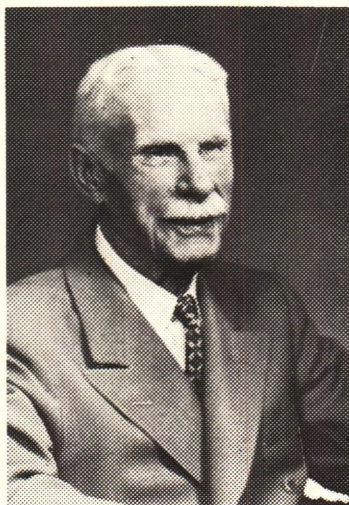

JOHN BACKE, A.N.A. NO. 3424

John Backe, 77, 1801 Fourteenth Ave., Monroe, Wis., died September 5 at the St. Clare Hospital. Born in Eidberg, Norway, in 1883, he came to Chicago in 1904 and was in the cheese business as a partner in the Sanner and Backe Cheese Company 1913-1920, in Argyle, Wis. He returned to Chicago but in 1933 went to Monroe as Manager for Capitol Cheese Company. He was an ardent student and collector of Norwegian coins and had at one time one of the largest collections of that country. He held memberships in the American Numismatic Association, the Nordic Numismatic Association and the Chicago Coin Club for many years. His widow, Grace; a son, John W.; a sister, Sarah in Norway; and two grandchildren, survive him. — RHR

JOHN F. JONES, A.N.A. NO. 6

Our senior member, both in age and in number, has left us. John Fredrick Jones, A.N.A. No. 6 and Honorary, died at his home in Jamestown, N.Y. September 1, at the age of 97.

Mr. Jones was born on July 17, 1864 in Sweden but was brought to America when one year of age and thereafter lived in Jamestown. He was a city engineer in the water department until he "retired" at the age of 75 to enter the real estate and insurance business. He and his wife, the former Rose Peterson, celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary last February. He is also survived by a son, two daughters, two grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

When Dr. Heath was organizing the A.N.A. in the early months of 1891, Mr. Jones was one of the very first to apply for charter membership. At the October meeting in Chicago he was elected to the Board of Trustees and held the office for the next two years. This ended his official functions but not his interest in numismatics.

His specialty for many years was foreign copper coins and in 1903 he co-authored an "Addenda to Scott's Copper Coin Catalogue of 1893." He had strong fraternal friendship with Dr. Heath, the Clapp brothers, George J. Bauer, T. James Clarke and many other numismatic greats. While he personally never amassed a large collection, he delighted in evaluating, attributing and cataloging worthwhile collections of his many, many friends. The information he thus gained prompted him to come out of seclusion in 1937 and until 1944, contribute this knowledge in a series of splendid articles which appeared in The Numismatist. Prominent among these were: "The Series of U.S. Commemorative Coins"; "1804 U.S. Dollar"; "Fractional Currency"; "Encased Postage Stamps" and "The 1856 Flying Eagle Cent." He was a stickler for authenticity in all his writings and covered minute details with exactness.

His greatest asset as a writer was his remarkable memory. This contributed to his flair for things historical, not only in numismatics but in civic, state and national events. In 1947 when this writer was preparing the article "Early Members of the A.N.A." he was advised by George Bauer to contact John F. Jones for information. Thus started a correspondence that was most fruitful and quite active until recent months.

It was never my pleasure to meet personally this tall, white haired and distinguished looking gentleman, but from his letters, handwritten in excellent penmanship, it was quite evident that he was keenly alert, carried his years with youth-like vigor and was strong in his likes and dislikes. He was respected for his sage advice and revered as a friend. He relished a chance to evaluate rarities, especially copper coins, yet was prone to recent trends when, during the early fifties, he put away a few modern proof sets and rolls because as he admitted, "They might prove to be a good investment, in time."

John F. Jones was awarded Honorary membership at the 1948 convention and was the first to receive the fifty year membership award that same year. At the recent Atlanta convention the Executive Board voted him a special certificate in honor of his seventy year membership.

Mr. Jones, with his vigor and outlook on life gave promise of becoming the first centenarian of our fraternity, but the Grim Reaper planned otherwise. After an illness dating back a few months and bedridden since last June, he has departed. I have lost a wonderful friend, the A.N.A. has lost its oldest member and numismatic scholar. — JWO

OSCAR J. BURNETT, A. N. A. NO. 3302

Oscar J. Burnett, 69, 3222 Noela Dr., Honolulu, Hawaii, died September 20 after an extended illness. He went to Hawaii in 1924 as a representative of Liggett and Myers Tobacco Co., but for the last twenty-seven years he was local manager of the Hormel Co. until his retirement last January. Mr. Burnett was a member of many civic and fraternal organizations as well as the American Numismatic Association which he joined in 1928. Survivors include his widow; a son, Donald of Burbank, Cal.; a brother, William H. Burnett, and a sister, Mrs. R. H. Biuce, both of Sheridan, Ark.

JOHN H. DETTENWANGER, A. N. A. NO. 27307

John H. Dettenwanger, 65, died of an apparent heart attack at his home, 28 Sunset Court, St. Louis, Mo., on September 4. He was a faithful member of Missouri Numismatic Society. Both John and Mrs. Dettenwanger joined the Society in 1956, and the members will miss his presence and contagious enthusiasm at meetings. — BS

FREDERICK G. WIRTHMAN, LM 122

Frederick G. Wirthman, 70, of 422 W. 68th St., Kansas City, Mo., died recently. He was a Notre Dame graduate, a registered pharmacist in Arkansas and Missouri, and a senior member of the American Chemical Society. Mr. Wirthman operated a drug store until about ten years ago and since then has devoted most of his time to minerals and coins. Admitted to the American Numismatic Association in June, 1941, he became A.N.A. Life Member No. 122 in April, 1946. He is survived by a daughter and three grandchildren for whom he set up the beginning of a fine coin collection. — RMJ

S. A., one of the few known copies of the Great Seal in color, and documents as well as copies of the rare local currency used on the Mexican border during the Civil War.

Footnote to Indiana Paper Money Article

Dear Mr. Bradfield:

An interesting fact was omitted in Dr. Skeen's listing of Indiana paper money about the notes of the Gramercy Bank (p. 1205, September Numismatist). On the notes No. 233-A and C, the words GRAMERCY HOTEL — NEW YORK appear in two lines above the picture of a building. These words are not on notes No. 233-B and D. Apparently someone objected to the name of a New York hotel being on Indiana notes and had it removed from the plate. This change is indicated by the plate position letter "A" on the first notes being changed to "Aa" on later printings.

Kentucky Convention

Sponsored by the Louisville Coin Club, the Kentucky Numismatic Association will hold its first convention at the Sheraton Hotel in Louisville on November 3-5. Over two hundred exhibits and some fifty bourse tables are expected. Auctions will be held Friday evening and Saturday and Sunday afternoons. No admission or registration charge will be made. A highlight of the affair will be a Saturday banquet at which an especially designed commemorative medal will be shown for the first time. The medal's motif relates to the Civil War centennial and Kentucky's position as a state having two Presidents, Lincoln and Davis, at one time. Only one is being struck in gold for placing in the Museum at Frankfort. For general sale, four hundred will be sterling at $10.00 and twenty-five hundred bronze at $2.00. The Club will donate $1.00 from the sale of each silver medal and 25¢ from each bronze to its charity, the local Visiting Nurse Association. Banquet tickets at $5.00 include corsages for the ladies and Kentucky "Colonel" ties for the men.

First place trophies and second and third place medals will be awarded for exhibits in six classes, in addition to a $50 trophy for Best-in-Show. Exhibits must be set up Thursday evening before the convention begins and will have police protection. David Simmons, president, may be con-

New Money Machine

On August 23, 1961, Perera Company of New York City began a new phase of selling foreign currencies to individuals traveling abroad. Two electrical push-button machines that were put into operation at Idlewild airport are able to convert an American five dollar bill into a desired foreign money in a matter of seconds.

Presently dollars are being changed into Belgian, English, French, German and Italian currency packaged in a small paper box containing small denomination banknotes as well as coins for tipping. This foreign exchange house will put similar machines at other airports throughout the country.

Indiana Association's Medallic Series

The Evansville Coin Club has available seventy-five silver and five hundred bronze medals commemorating the third annual Indiana State Numismatic Association convention. The obverse depicts the Evansville Museum of Arts and Sciences and the reverse honors the centennial of the Civil War.

The South Bend Coin Club plans a similar medal in conjunction with the 1962 ISNA convention using the same reverse but presenting either Notre Dame or the Studebaker plant on the obverse. The fifth annual ISNA convention in Muncie, Ind., will feature the same reverse with Ball State College memorialized on the other side. It is hoped that this theme can be carried out for each Indiana convention of the Civil War years, making an interesting set for collectors.

Orders for the Evansville medals (serially numbered silver at $7.50 and oxidized bronze at $1.00) should be directed to the Evansville Coin Club, 1351 Washington Ave., Evansville 14, Ind.

Moritz Wormser Prize Winner Named by ANS

Abraham L. Udovitch of Yale University has been awarded the Moritz M. Wormser prize of $200.00 for producing the best paper at the 1961 summer seminar of the American Numismatic Society. Miss Susan Downey of Yale University, Robert E. Lerner of Princeton University, and Miss Cynthia Sheldon of Johns Hopkins University, received honorable mention. The amount of the prize was donated by Charles M. Wormser in memory of his late father, Moritz M. Wormser, who had been a member of the Council of the American Numismatic Society for a long period.

This is the third annual listing. Included in this edition are twenty pages of supplemental information to the 1958 and 1959 volumes. A very few copies of the two earlier editions are available from the compiler, $1.50 for the 1958 and $4.00 for the 1959; $5.25 for the pair. Mr. Mishler's work is required reading for intelligent collecting of medals and tokens.

THERE IS ONE IN EVERY PRECINCT — II

By

S. W. FREEMAN, LM 366

I AM standing first on one foot and then the other in front of the Idle Hour Billiard and Pool Hall with hands in empty pockets. The reason I shift feet is that at this particular time the side walk is hotter than a depot stove and my sole leather is thinner than my last alibi. Why I am here instead of my usual stand in front of Joe's, is due to a recent experience I suffer with a certain coin collecting pool shark, which left my pockets as clean as a maiden's dream. This experience I am wanting to forget, and could, except for the gang at Joe's.

I am about to quit this spot for a bench in the park down the street, when a guy walks up and asks for a match. He offers me a smoke with one of these "think for yourself" filters on it which I accept, being at the time without weeds, filtered or otherwise. As we light-up I give this fellow a quick once over which no doubt he does to me. I see this guy has class; his suit is freshly pressed, a trace of handkerchief is in his pocket, and his Panama is new, while on his left hand there is a sparkler that would pierce more gloom than the headlight on the Santa Fe Chief.

In a well meaning voice this gent thanks me for the light and says he can see I am a man of influence and integrity and he is having a proposition to make to just such, but first he should know my banking connections. Now I know, as do you, that I am being given the treatment, but what you do not know is that I once distributed to the trade a small booklet entitled, "How to Con a Con — in Five Easy Lessons."

My eye goes back to the hunk of ice this guy carries, and I see he would be needing tongs if it was any larger. If it is the real McCoy, it is a shining example of nature's handiwork, if it isn't the boys up Corning way must have worked three shifts with overtime to turn out such a stack of solid silica. There is no experience like the voice of, and what can I lose if I let this guy give me the whole treatment. It might even prove beneficial, and then too this deal about banking sticks in my mind.

I say to this individual, that while I am not one to pass up any lucrative proposition, I do not discuss my banking with strangers; at least not until shown proper and sufficient credentials. I mention the park near by, complete with breezes, benches and pigeons and say that if he cares to accompany me there, we might converse in more comfort toward a mutuality of understanding.

As we walk slowly along, this citizen keeps up a running chatter, which I am not in the least hearing, being deep in past banking experiences, mostly unmentionable. Just before we reach the park I think of Willie, he's Lottie's brother, which makes us in-laws, so to speak. I see Willie as my ace in the hole, even if the hole is deeper than somewhat. He is head teller and cashier of the Cross Tracks National and is my best and only connection.

Something over a year ago I put the touch on Willie for ten bucks which I put down on a sure thing to win in the third race at Belmont. I later learn this nag broke late at the post, was a strong fifth on the outside at the turn, faded in the stretch and finished a poor last by seven lengths. I somehow seem to have overlooked paying back this sawbuck, so my ace in the hole no doubt has me lower than the deuce of Clubs on his list.

At this past midday hour the park isn't crowded and we inhabit a bench somewhat apart from the others. He hands me a card on which, aside from his name and address, I see he is an importer of objets d'art and is a specialist in numismatic investments.

Now I am not to be caught napping twice on the same log, so I tell this joker that my superstitious nature leads me to believe he is a coin collector, and if he is such, further relations can not be friendly. He addresses me as "my good man," and in a rather indignant voice assures me he is certainly not a coin collector, but that he thrives on those so-called, who are out to make a fast buck on deals involving recent coins of reported short issue.

At this point he brings out his wallet and unravels about a yard and a half of assorted credit cards. This display of purchasing power, plus the flashing facets on his finger, somewhat lower my guard, but the clincher comes when this gent shows me a letter from his banker addressed "To whom it may concern" stating that a comfortable balance is being maintained and that past experience has been highly satisfactory.

As you know I am now wanting to hear this guy's pitch in the worst way, so I accept, by way of asking for, another wadded weed and after inhaling several drags of practically nothing at all, I say I am now ready to discuss my banking connections. I further say that inasmuch as I left my billfold at home, I am not having a card. I give him my moniker and we shake hands which seems sort of silly, as we have been in conversation now for some time.

My new friend listens to my buildup about Willie and his bank and I must admit I smeared it on pretty thick, particularly the part about Willie and me being inseparable. The truth being that if Willie should happen into the park right now, it would call for a fast separation else I would gather a brace of shiners, him being handy with his dukes and me too loggy to run.

It seems my selling is solid, because this gent assures me that beyond a doubt I am just such a contact as he looks for. He now tells me that every year he gets from his bank sacks of each coin minted which he parcels out to his clients in the original rolls, at a small profit. They in turn put them away in safe deposit boxes and await developments. Poop sheets are being published giving best buys, which I figure are like tip sheets on the races.

This year it happens that this gent's bank did not receive any sacks of 1960 Philadelphia mint cents, and on top of this he has just learned that there were two kinds of pennies minted this year, some with large dates and some with small. This is turning out to be a nuisance, as he now must have both kinds, if he is to properly serve his clients.

Here he says is his proposition: He will give me a generous ten per cent in cash, figured on the total of any sacks of coins he might buy from my banker relative, but I must arrange for a meeting today as he is leaving town in the morning.

I say to my esteemed friend that if he will excuse me and also excuse the loan of a dime, I will phone from the cigar store across the street and try and make the arrangement, but warn him that Willie is sensitive and not easily rushed into making deals.

I get Willie on the phone and start by telling him about my string of bad luck during the past year, then say I am happy to inform him that my fortune has just changed and that I have a real live pigeon caged in the park across the street, and that I am willing to share this good fortune with him. Willie says that whatever park I mention is no doubt alive with pigeons, whereat I tell him the pigeon I refer to is having two legs but no wings, and is in fact the finest living manifestation of plutocracy I encounter in a decade; what further he should know is that this plutocrat is in the market for some of his wares, namely, sacks of new coins. I make it clear that unless we are to lose this plush lush we must act fast, so should I bring him to the bank, say, in an hour. He says he knows he is being snowed but to come ahead with this bird and also his ten bucks.

Before hanging up he warns me that if I come without this ten spot, the kids in my neighborhood will be thrilled by the siren of the ambulance bringing me home.

Our taxi lets us out at the side door of the bank, where the driver is asked to wait. Inside we see Willie's window is getting a last minute rush before closing, so we cool our heels until the last customer leaves. I take my valued friend over and make him acquainted with Willie. I am thereafter as useless as a shill on a rainy day at the fair.

I just stand and watch this guy in operation, and if I do say so, his front work is terrific; his smile is continuous, his voice compelling and his bearing convincing. I can see about fifteen minutes of this and Willie would be giving him the combination to the vault.

In much less time, Willie tells our friend he has several bags of 1960 cents and if they are what he is looking for he would consider selling them, as he now has a surplus of used cents. He enters the vault and comes out with two sacks, the combined weight of which would make a suitable anchor for the Queen Mary. One sack is opened and a few of the coins are handed to our friend. He looks at one and says that it is from the Philadelphia mint, but has a large date and that he can use one sack of these, but he is more interested in the small date. The other bag turns out to have the same and our friend seems greatly upset until Willie tells him he has two more sacks in the vault which he received on an earlier shipment. When these are opened our friend's eyes light up like pinwheels and he says to Willie, without looking up, that he will pay two hundred and fifty dollars for these last two bags and one of the first. Willie, it seems, has lost his voice, and I am afraid he won't get it back in time, but our friend takes a different slant on the silence and says that on second thought he gives three C notes for the last two opened and face value for one of the first. After a second or two Willie manages to squeak out an O.K. Our friend lays out the long green and asks if I will help him carry his load to the cab.

I pick up one sack and my friend, after a few parting words with Willie, struggles with two, and we make it to the cab. There my friend hands me three cool tens, which he feels is fair since one bag was bought at face. I figure I am being fingered out of five skins, but I accept.

Back in the bank, I push a ten note through Willie's wicket. He is just balancing his day's cash and when he is through, he pushes it back to me, saying we are all square. He even seems happy which is a condition I seldom see him in. I thank him and as I leave he says, if I should catch another pigeon to fly it by.

Lottie is washing dishes and I am listening to the ball game and at peace with the world, when the phone rings. It's Willie and I can tell he's back in his usual foul humor, except more so. He starts off by calling me one of those names, and in between fits of profanity, says he will have me arrested for trespassing if he ever catches me in his bank again, then tells me to look on page ten of the evening paper and hangs up in my ear.

I find page ten is the financial page which I read about as often as Shakespeare. My eye finally comes to rest on a small display advertisement, placed by a midwestern coin dealer, which reads in part: "A certified check for $3,000.00 will be mailed to any bank, on receipt of, and to be considered as, the total purchase price for, one mint sack of 1960-P, small date, cents."

Numismatic Vignettes

■ Great paintings are signed. Fine silver has its hallmark. The Lincoln cent has its VDB. Paper money engravings often bear the engraver's name or initials, yet very few collectors see them. Here are some clues to their hiding places—you need only an ordinary glass and a sharp eye to find others on your own notes. The illustrations are enlarged portions of portraits of Presidents from Bureau of Engraving and Printing card proofs.

Fig. 2. Same portrait, with inserted section on left enlarged two times. Above, below and to right is part of the same section enlarged four times original size, with initials G.F.C.S. (George Frederick Cummings Smillie) retouched to show clearly. Wilson and Smillie both died in 1924.

Figure 3

Fig. 3. James Madison. Enlarged five and one-half times to show A. SEALEY SC, the "sc" being for the Latin sculpsit meaning he or she carved it. A nearly identical signature is on the Washington portrait used on the legal tender $1, series 1869 to 1917, and can be seen on many of these notes.

Fig. 4. James Garfield. Enlarged $2\frac{3}{4}$ times, with arrow pointing to the signature (Lorenzo) HATCH. This engraving, made in 1881, was used on second charter \$5 National Currency notes but with minor alterations to the bow tie and adjacent areas. Some outer shading was removed, including the area containing Hatch's name. — GLENN S.

¹⁴This bank is in the 1856 list of suspended free banks, so it could not have been a branch of the institution chartered in 1834, nor is there a record of a branch being authorized in Peru. No notes or other records known.

¹⁵On the notes of this bank, the word STOCK is in smaller and lighter letters than the remainder of the bank name. Thus, at a glance, the notes appear to be on the State Bank of Indiana. There are quite a few other instances of notes being designed to appear to be on better known banks.

¹⁶The two seated women, facing each other from opposite ends of this note, are "partials" of a vignette used on 406-B, where they are seated back to back. On 405-A, the man with a sickle on the left end is a partial of the center vignette on this note. The use of partials, sometimes altered slightly from the original engraving, was a common practice to cut costs.

ERRATUM ("Paper Money of Indiana"). From evidence now at hand, it appears that the Huntingdon, Cambria and Indiana Turnpike Company, 1817 (notes No. 23-A and 163-A in this listing) was a Pennsylvania company. Neither note bears a separate state name. Apparently "Indiana" in the name refers to the town in Pennsylvania rather than to the state. D. C. Wismer listed seven and described four notes of this company under "Huntingdon" in his listing of Pennsylvania notes which appeared in The Numismatist from April 1932 to June 1933, inclusive. He did not list the three-cent note, but did list, describe and illustrate the $3 note. — ROBERT J. ALLISON, A.N.A. No. 18936

The early history of chocolate is shrouded in the ancient mists of the Mexican and Central American rain forests. Centuries before the white man knew of Mexico, the Aztec ruling families fancied a cocoa-bean beverage called chocolatl. (The Aztecs used the beans as money, too. According to report, the price of a good slave was a hundred beans.) — Corn, Spring, 1961

Saudi Arabian Currency Cover — The Saudi Arabian Monetary Agency has decided to increase the proportion of gold in its currency cover to fifty per cent, and has arranged the purchase of an additional $25 million worth of gold through the Federal Reserve Bank of New York. Currency in circulation will now be covered in equal proportions by gold and convertible currencies. Gold accounted for only 12½ per cent of the currency cover last November, when it was decided to buy $35 million worth of gold.

To the New Coin Collector

When one decides to join the ranks of the many thousands of numismatists from all over the world, he is indeed enrolling in a worthwhile cultural hobby that affords him not only much pleasure but also big dividends in historical and geographical knowledge. All down through the ages money or its equivalent, has commanded a very important place in the lives of men. Authorized, coined money dates back to about 700 B. C. when the crude pieces of electrum were struck in the little mideastern country of Lydia. Prior to that, weights of precious metal, rings, jewelry, and barter, consisting of just about every commodity useful to man, were used to carry on commercial transactions.

Many of us wish to study the evolution of money from those crude beginnings to the perfect specimens struck at our mints today. What better way, then, to accomplish this end than to acquire a collection of worthwhile coins so that we may actually handle them as we study the history and events that prompted their issue.

The beginner may be undecided as to what phase of numismatics would be of most interest to him. There are indeed many suggestions that could be of help to him, and a difference of viewpoint is most desirable. By delving into the many aspects of numismatics, we find that the subject is extensive enough to furnish ample reward and interest for as many as care to make it their hobby. My collector associate may not have much interest in the coins I collect, and I in turn may not feel much enthusiasm for his chosen field; however, our collective interests all contribute toward making of numismatics one of the most fascinating and enjoyable of all hobbies.

Many specialists make a life study of a limited group, such as U. S. large cents, and spend hours and encounter considerable eye strain in an effort to sort out the various die varieties. There is always the promise that some day their vigilance may be rewarded by the discovery of a new variety heretofore unknown. This would be compensation enough for the time and effort expended. Wayte Raymond's Catalogue of U. S. Coins, lists over sixty varieties of the 1794 large cents alone. So, if a study of these cents affords pleasure to a certain studious group, who shall question their preference?

Since most cities have organized coin clubs, I would heartily recommend that an interested party should join one of them as soon as possible so that he may have the benefit afforded by the experience and the advice of its members. Through them, he will become more interested as he learns to speak in terms of their language.

It is only natural that we should first become interested in the money of our own country. These various issues, unfold to us history in the making and acquaint us with the courage and patriotism of our forefathers.

Most beginners start with some of the popular boards in an attempt to acquire all the dates and mint marks. They soon fill their boards with many of the "easy spots" but soon realize that they are often at the mercy of the dealers for the rare dates. Some of the latter are quite expensive, more so than are many of the historical pieces of two thousand years ago.

Suppose one finally fills his board. Perhaps after awhile the monotony of seeing so many pieces exactly alike except for dates and mint marks may not furnish enough allurements to stimulate and hold his interest. This may be a critical period for his hobby. The ardor and enthusiasm with which he started may have cooled, and he is satisfied in believing he has reached his goal. He may decide to keep what he has but makes no further effort to explore the many additional attractive phases of his hobby.

Now for those board collectors who don't wish to pay the high prices required to fill some of the spots, I would like to suggest a course I followed many years ago. When I was discouraged and losing interest in dates and mint marks, I switched my attention to U. S. type sets. By doing so, I assembled many types, no two alike, presenting a most pleasing and satisfying appearance. I avoided paying the premium prices for the rare dates by substituting the cheaper ones and yet having coins with just as much appeal. If one later feels he can afford to replace some of his set with the more expensive ones, he can have that added satisfaction. I set this course thirty years ago and have never regretted making the change.

Don't overlook the delightful varieties of U. S. paper currency, especially the many early issues of the large notes, also postal fractional small notes ranging in value from 1 cent to 50 cents. Of great interest too, are the Colonial notes, cents and tokens.

Possibly by this time having specialized only in the various issues of the U. S. the collector may have an urge to branch out and acquire some of the many fascinating examples of the monies of other countries. I believe that a diversified collection may furnish a more lasting gratification than to adhere to any one group.

One group of collectors may suggest the buying of ancient Greek silver, generally conceded to be the most artistic and beautiful ever struck. Its mythological background permitted the great artists and die makers of that day to express themselves on coins depicting their mental images of the gods and goddesses whom they worshipped. On the other hand, another group may favor the beautiful Roman portrait sestertii and denarii which give us the splendid likenesses of the Roman emperors and their families.

It was after Rome's downfall in 476 A.D., through the centuries of strife and unrest of the dark ages, that Europe worried along with mostly crudely struck pennies. In Byzantium, Rome's Eastern Empire, there were the wooden-faced solidi, showing obverses of their rulers and reverses of the Savior and other sacred images. The many varieties of all these pieces are deserving of a place in any coin cabinet.

From some of the wealth brought back by the Crusaders there were struck the beautiful gold florins, re-introducing gold coins to the Western world. In 1486 Archduke Sigismund of Tyrol issued a large dollar-sized coin and a little later, about 1519, there appeared the large silver joachimsthalers struck in Bohemia. As these pieces seemed to find general favor, hundreds of different types of thalers soon circulated throughout Europe.

Other parts of the world had their share of interesting coins also. For the collectors who have a flair for the unusual, there are the ancient spade and knife money. From Siam, there are many odd pieces such as bullet and pack saddle money. Switching to Africa, there are the crosses of the Congo, spears, rings and shell money, and many other types that should satisfy the most unusual tastes. Nearer home are the various types of Canadian issues and the many beautiful pesos of Mexico, Central and South America.

Varied and interesting as these suggestions are, they furnish only a brief glimpse of the limitless array of fascinating issues which the world has to offer.

One should acquire some good books on the subject which will post him on approximate values and the history to be learned from his coins. It is a mighty good idea too, for the collector to join the A.N.A. which has a library of thousands of volumes that one may borrow for the mere paying of nominal postage.

It is a good plan not to be hurried into buying your coins. It is well to give thought as to just what specimens you really want and which will give you the most pleasure. I have known collectors to buy in wholesale lots and acquire hundreds of coins just to be able to brag about quantity but, alas, not quality.

Try to buy coins in the best condition you can afford. A poor coin will detract from an otherwise nice display and may be difficult to sell or trade. Be sure your coins are genuine, not counterfeits or altered dates. The best way to protect yourself is to buy from reliable dealers.

When one is worried or for some reason feels discouraged, relax for awhile by losing one's self in the rich background of this fascinating hobby. Often it is a big help toward again regaining peace of mind. — C. C. SAEMAN, A.N.A. No. 4305.

POSSIBLE CHANGE IN GREENLAND'S MONETARY SYSTEM

As evidence of the continuously closer link between Greenland and Denmark, the Greenland Council looks favorably on the abolishment of its special bank notes administered by the Royal Greenland Trade Department. Discussions have taken place between the latter and the Ministry of Finance as well as the National Bank of Denmark regarding the proposed separation of the currency systems.

ERRATUM: "Survey of Medieval Iberian Coinages." F. Xavier Calicó, noted authority on Spanish coins, made the following comment in a letter to the authors (7/11/61) regarding the Madrid mint during the medieval period:

"Anyhow, I take the liberty of making a remark on one assertion of the said article, Numismatist, page 744, referring to identify as from Madrid, coins with mark of crowned M.

"It is convenable to state that the little importance that Madrid had cannot justify its having a mint in epoch former to Philip III who was the founder of that mint in 1614. At the beginning, the monogram was utilized as mark, and the crowned M, token of royal city, was not adopted till Philip V, about in 1718. The mark of crowned M that is seen under Henry IV, according to general opinions must be attributed to Murcia.

"Existing references stating that the Madrid monetary mint was among the 150 ones authorized by King Henry IV are not very sure, but if it minted and used a mark there was not any reason of utilizing the crowned M."

The Santa Barbara Coin Club had a registration of 1,111 at its August 5 and 6 Coinarama, with 350 others attending without signing in. The successful affair was held in the Mar Monte Hotel, with a bourse of thirty-six dealers and fifty-three cases of fine exhibits. Winners in the exhibit competition were: U. S. coins (except gold), junior division, John Todd; senior division, first, Edith Davis; second, Bob Birgbauer. Coins prior to 1500 A.D., junior division, Peter Dullea; senior division, first, Chuck Douglas; second, Mrs. Kem Weber. Foreign coins after 1500 A.D., first, Fred Claveria; second, Gwen Sentis. Paper money, first, Leroy Meyers; second, Gordon Rammer. Medals, orders or decorations, first, Sigmund Morganroth; second, Robert E. Gross. Specialized, mint errors, historical, or educational, first, Knud Clausen; second, Ojai Coin Club. All gold, U. S. or foreign, first, Ronnie Carr; second, Ray Bower. Sets of foreign and U. S. coins, first, Ray Bower.

Robert E. Gross gave a fine talk on Russian medals, orders and decorations to the sixty-one attending the August 21 meeting. Gross told how medals originated as coins given in payment for bravery or zeal of service. He maintains that people interested in medals, orders and decorations are interested basically in history, because each medal represents a particular event—the history of a country is told by a series of its medals over the years. He said that orders usually occur in four classes but in Japan the Order of the Rising Sun occurs in twelve classes. As an example of classes, he displayed and explained the Russian Order of St. Stanislaus: the first class of the order is worn on the sash—a badge and star. The second class is worn at the neck—a cravat piece—sometimes as large as the star, sometimes not. In Russia, the second class is awarded without a star but if given to a foreigner it has a star. Third class is worn on the breast with a bow or knot. Fourth class has no bow or knot. He explained that there are a great many variations, and that ribbons are an important factor in collecting medals, orders and decorations. Even worn or tattered ribbons should be preserved as it is sometimes impossible to replace them or even know what kind of ribbon should be attached to a particular piece. There is much more than just beauty to a collection of medals, orders and decorations. — GWEN SENTIS, Sec.

Although past the thousand-member mark, the Los Angeles Coin Club took in two new members at its September 1 meeting, at which 212 were present. Jack Ogilvie reported many interesting highlights of the A.N.A. Atlanta convention. Tom Wood was responsible for an excellent program in getting Howard Housted of the Los Angeles Department of Water and Power to show and narrate a fine motion picture story of our water. We learned where it comes from, how it is delivered, its purity, quality and quantity. Special mention was made that our November meeting will be held on the tenth, due to the first Friday conflict with the Cal State convention. Congratulations were extended to our president Paul Freestone who is starting his 37th year with the L. A. Police Department, and to our friends Russell and Mrs. Sny-

Hugh M. Knight read a paper on "Pieces of Existence" at the eighteenth meeting of the Club of Illinois Numismatists, held in the Homewood, Ill., Village Hall. Knight told of the early history of Mexico and led up to the issuance and use of the Spanish pieces of eight. When the followers of Cortez began pillaging churches and other institutions, the priests took what they could carry and fled north into what is now southwest United States. Some pieces of eight were quartered and shaped into crude arrow heads and used for killing game and fighting off Indians, hence they became "Pieces of Existence." Paul and Lois Otis showed colored slides taken at the Atlanta A.N.A. convention from which we can understand their glowing account of it. Certificates and ribbons were given to those who participated in National Coin Week, in which this Club placed second in Class C. — HELEN SCHWENGER, Sec.

Aided by colored slides, Harry Bartley spoke on transportation tokens to the sixteen present at the September 5 meeting of Western Pennsylvania Numismatic Society, held at Carnegie Museum Library. Harry exhibited subject tokens, other exhibits being cut and counter-stamped coins of the West Indies, by Kay Byrne; paper money, by Gordon Dodrill; Canadian items and an original cased presentation set of German 1923 inflation money, by Richard Foley; scarce hard times tokens, by Robert Hudson; and Civil War tokens, by Phil Williams. — DR. ROBERT J. HUDSON, Sec.-Treas.

Several members of Indianapolis Coin Club who attended the A.N.A. Atlanta convention gave interesting and very favorable accounts of it at the August 23 meeting. Plans were approved for the Club's twelfth annual participation in the Indianapolis Hobby Show on November 11-19. This is always the highlight of our exhibiting activity during the year. This report is from a numismatic club which never holds a meeting, or holds one continuously, depending upon your viewpoint. The Maryland Paper Money Club was founded in February, 1960 by Lt. John E. Sandrock, USN, as a means of bringing together collectors and students of foreign paper money. Originally the membership was restricted to Marylanders, but it is open now to anyone seriously interested in the specialty. President Sandrock is on active duty overseas but the Club issues a quarterly publication, The Currency Collector, has a library, and its thirty-three members exchange paper money through a continuous chainletter. Members are encouraged to correspond and trade material with each other directly, also. Further information about this club and membership in it may be obtained by writing the Secretary at 701 Hammonds Lane, Baltimore 25, Md. — ALEXANDER J. SULLIVAN, Sec.

The Clarion (Iowa) Coin Collectors will hold a big fall get-together at the Hotel Moore in Clarion on November 3. There will be an auction of about a hundred lots, several door prizes and plenty of "coin talk." President Bill Kopps invites all collectors in the area to join in the party. — DON WATTS

A convention will be held on November 24-26 in Hotel Peabody by the Memphis Coin and Stamp Clubs. Displays will be by members only, but bourse tables are available to anyone at $10 for the three days. At this low price, no sales will be permitted except from Herb Riley gave a report on contacts he has made regarding the 1963 Indiana State Numismatic Association convention to be held in the newly remodelled Student Center at the Ball State Teachers College. Adequate facilities are available in this very attractive building for a fine convention. — MARY ALICE TALBERT, Corr. Sec.

The New Jersey Numismatic Society held its 331st meeting August 10 at the Military Park Hotel in Newark, with twenty in attendance. Announcement was made that U.S. Customs has declared that Saudi Arabian gold pieces struck by the United States are bullion and not collectable as coins. James P. Ward exhibited and spoke on "Private Gold Coins," explaining the various denominations and issues. He considers them as necessity money because they took the place of nuggets and gold dust when regular coins were not available in sufficient quantities. They were minted by private companies who included their name on the pieces as a mark of genuineness. They range from 25¢ to $50 in gold content, including some bars of gold of odd weights. Souvenir and imitation pieces, especially in the small denominations, have been issued and are sometimes mistaken for genuine pieces. His educational and interesting talk on this specialized field of collecting was well received. There were a number of other exhibits of gold coins and medals, both of this country and foreign.

At the September 14 meeting, Charter Member Alfred T. Duffield contributed a number of minor coins of the Near East to the Society, he having recently made a trip to that part of the world. Several members reported on the Atlanta A.N.A. convention, calling it the best ever held. Joseph Sternberg spoke on "Pirate Treasure, Fact and Fiction." His well illustrated talk dealt with the stories of pirates of the Spanish Main, who attacked ships indiscriminately and looted them of valuables. Favorite targets of attack were the Spanish ships carrying gold, silver and jewels from the Americas. After about 1815 the combined sea power of the world gradually reduced piracy and now modern deep sea equipment is bringing some of the sunken treasure to the surface. We enjoyed this well planned and educational talk very much. — JAMES A. BROWN, Sec.-Treas.

The Victoria (Canada) Numismatic Society met at the Victoria Art Gallery on September 11 with an attendance of forty-nine. Guest speaker J. Cleland discussed the highly interesting topic "Insurance in Relation to Collections." Stephen Bibler from Seattle favored us with a display of American "necessity money," which was appreciated by all present. — MRS. GLADYS BROWN, Sec.

The Monterey Peninsula Coin Club held its eighty-fifth meeting on August 21 with a large turnout of forty-six persons, including many ladies. Six of our members attended the first meeting of Northern California Numismatic Association, which we have joined. Col. G. G. Davis displayed his albums of German thalers and crowns, and gave a nice introduction to the topic. Our featured speaker, Henri Heller, contributed to the large attendance by exhibiting his 1893 over 2 dime. He spoke on altering and counterfeiting popular coins, warning us to beware of buying questionable coins from people we don't know. He referred to the need for using a strong glass to inspect coins and for keeping posted. Everyone appreciated what he had to say and his warnings about "phony" coins. Dennis and Mrs. Hooker of San Jose were present and told of the progress numismatic organizations are making in California. The evening ended in a trading session. — WARREN S. CLAUNCH, Sec.

The New Castle (Ind.) Coin Club will have an all day coin show November 26, Will Smith Auditorium, New Castle, Ind. Bourse tables are $5.00. Auctioneer is Joe Harper. The premium is 65¢ per hundred for the first $5,000, 40¢ per hundred on the next $2,000, and 25¢ per hundred beyond $7,000. Members participated in a lively discussion of matters regarding coin insurance. — E. CAROLYN NESTRICK, Sec.

Sixty-one members and guests attended the September 26 meeting of Port City Coin Club in the Municipal Light and Water auditorium in Muscatine, Iowa. We voted to buy three new flags for the City's use. Charles Lindbure gave an enthusiastic report of the Illinois Numismatic Association convention held in Peoria last weekend. — MRS. GUS HEINRICH, Reporter

The 27th annual convention and banquet of Milwaukee Numismatic Society will be held November 5 at the Pfister Hotel. Bourse and exhibit space will be available at 9 a.m. and a one hundred-lot auction will begin at 2 p.m. The banquet is at 6:30 p.m. Prize winning exhibitors will receive medallic awards. This yearly event has always been well attended. All collectors are invited. — A. P. BERTSCHY, Publ. Chm.

Hurricane Carla was to blame for cancellation of the Galveston County Coin Club annual "Coin Jamboree" planned for October 21-22. Many members suffered losses and extensive damage to property during the storm. — MRS. E. E. WHITE, Sec.

The program of the September meeting of Evansville Coin Club was planned to keep pace with the current interest in medals. Those present were treated to a movie on how to go about making a medal. Laura Gardin Frazier, noted artistic designer, clearly demonstrated the process from design to production. We consider "The Medal Maker" movie a must for all coin collectors. Another movie called "Sing Hi-Sing Low" was shown. Bash Kennett sang and explained how bartering was done in the days before money was in use. Bill Pukall, Ed Skully and Charles Wicker enhanced the program by exhibiting some of their favorite medals of artistic design. — BETTYE J. KLAUSS, Sec.

The Coastal Empire Coin Club, Hunter AFB, Savannah, Ga., meets the first and third Thursday monthly and invites collectors to attend in the Skyline Service Club. Auctions are held regularly and free bourse tables are available. The regular meetings are followed by a trading session during which refreshments are served. The Club's application for A.N.A. membership (No. 42617) in the September issue contained a misspelling of the secretary's name. Correspondence should be directed to her at the Skyline Service Club, Hunter AFB, Ga. — MRS. BETTY L. CASH, Sec.

Trophies for first place and ribbons for second and third will be awarded for U.S. coins; foreign coins; paper money; gold and proof coins; ancient coins; medals, tokens, odd and curious, and mint errors. Junior classes are U.S. and foreign coins; U.S. and foreign paper money. Also, there will be a special trophy for the Best-in-Show exhibit. Myron Huffman, 1315 Spy Run Ave., Fort Wayne, has charge of exhibits. — WARD LASSEN, Pub. Dir.

Eighty-seven members were welcomed by President Les Copan to the first fall meeting of Vancouver (Canada) Numismatic Society. We were pleasantly surprised to be addressed on our newly installed public address system. Our auctioneer, Scot Simpson received warm congratulations from members on his election as British Columbia director of Canadian Numismatic Association. Larry Gingras and Irene Schmidt, our delegates to the C.N.A. convention, addressed the meeting on activities at Hamilton. Talks by other members on their summer numismatic activities included a very interesting account by Scot Simpson of his trip to Alaska. A feature of the evening was the introduction of bourse tables, on a trial basis, by members who may dispose of numismatic duplicates both before the commencement of the meeting and during intermission. Each member will be allowed one evening during the next five months without charge. Eager attendance at the tables makes it appear that the practice will be continued. — NORMAN W. WILLIAMS, Publ. Rep.

Member Harold R. Klein was congratulated on his reelection as treasurer of A.N.A. at the September 8 meeting of Oak Park Coin Club. Held in the Oak Park Arms Hotel, we had an even hundred in attendance. Informal reports on the fine A.N.A. convention in Atlanta, and the C.N.A. in Hamilton, Ontario, were given by Harold Klein, Sarah Peskin, M. A. Powills and Glenn Smedley. William Benzinger gave a fascinating talk on his visit to the site of the atomic bombing in Japan, stressing the feeling of the Japanese there toward Americans and their fervid opposition to atomic warfare. Irving Harris, Chairman of the fifth annual West Suburban Coin Exhibit, assured us that everything is in hand for this affair on November 5 in the Oak Park Arms Hotel. Ten varied and fine exhibits were presented by Denis Anderson, Chet Bryk, Dennis Ciechna, Don Doswell, Harry Flower, Jim Grebinger, Irving Harris, Elmer Moller, M. A. Powills and Glenn Smedley. — S. A. VAN PETTEN, Sec.

A hundred and thirty members and guests attended the 240th meeting of Missouri Numismatic Society on September 11 at the Claridge Hotel, St. Louis. Nineteen new members, including six juniors, were admitted to the Society. The various chairmen of our August 12-13 Coin Festival reported on that highly successful affair, which some twenty-five hundred attended. We enjoyed a playback of an interview with Publicity Chairman Chris Schlather by Curt Ray on the KMOX-TV "Good Morning, St. Louis" show on the Thursday preceding the Festival. There were several other TV and radio appearances and good newspaper coverage. Club members were so pleased with the 1,541 actual registration and other indications of interest that they voted to hold a 1962 festival immediately preceding the A.N.A. convention in August. Dave Cooper offered to serve as Chairman again, and members anticipate an even bigger and better show next summer. — BERNICE STEVENSON, Sec.

FINLAND MAY CREATE "HEAVY MARRKA"

The Government of Finland has accepted in principle a proposal by the Bank of Finland to introduce the so-called "heavy marrka" similar to the French action. The new marrka would have a value a hundred times that of the present unit. No change will occur before early 1963.

ADVERTISERS PLEASE NOTE ALL FOLLOWING CONDITIONS

All correspondence relating to advertising should be addressed to the Advertising Manager, S. W. Freeman, P. O. Box 591, Newport, Ark. Make all remittances payable to the American Numismatic Association.

No advertising accepted from minors.

Advertising Contracts: These are available, covering periods of three, six and twelve consecutive months for display space as listed in the above Table of Rates, and are necessary if the schedule of reduced rates is to apply. If the advertiser prefers not to accept the Contract, such reduced rates will be granted only upon payment in advance for the period desired.

References: All advertisers who submit copy for the first time are definitely requested to furnish therewith banking or other satisfactory references.

Available Space Units: Practical considerations restrict the allocation of space units to those listed in the above table. Any amount of space (subject to any current limitation) is available IF these units or a combination of them are used. Unless contrary instructions are given, copy will be cut if found too full for the space designated; if no designation is made, it shall be understood the amount of space is left to the discretion of the Advertising Manager.

Unless under contract, smaller units than one-half page accepted subject to available space in desired issue.

Deadline: Copy must be received by the Advertising Manager by the 5th of the month to insure insertion in the following month's issue.

Illustrations: All cuts to be provided by the advertisers, care being used to see that they do not exceed in measurement the limits of the space unit desired. The Advertising Manager, when absolutely necessary, will have engravings made from furnished photographs, at national rates, to be paid for by advertiser.

We cannot accept mats or stereos.

Miscellaneous: Please furnish copy separately from your letter of transmittal. Advertising copy included in the body of a letter usually has to be retyped for the printer; this should not be required. Mail Bid Sales listing not acceptable. It is also the policy of the magazine to limit its advertisements to those of numismatic character.

Preparation of Copy: Advertising copy should be prepared with minute care. Carelessness invites error—something which both advertiser and publisher are anxious to avoid. Use only one side of the sheet. Send originals, not carbon copies. Use only paper of good quality, and not of extremely light weight. All copy must be typed, no handwritten accepted.

In the absence of an Advertising Contract, when payment in advance for any number of consecutive months has been made, if change of copy has not been received by the 7th of the month for the next issue, the latest preceding advertisement will be run.

Advertisers may use a trade name, but, except in the case of an incorporated concern, the name of the proprietor or some other responsible person connected with the firm must also appear in the advertisement.

The right to edit copy, to require payment in advance, and to decline any advertisement is specifically reserved.

Only a few of the GOLD, SILVER, MINOR COINS & CURRENCY we need in ALL CONDITIONS (yes, we buy damaged and mutilated, too). We are interested in buying EVERYTHING IN A COLLECTION (not just the "cream"). Yes, WE BUY ROLLS & QUANTITY LOTS TOO — NO LOT OR QUANTITY TOO LARGE (ask the many dealers and investors who have sold us large roll and bag lots). It will PAY YOU to contact us before selling. WE ARE PAYING THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS EACH YEAR FOR ADS TO BUY. They must produce or we couldn't continue. Our Reputation Is Based Upon Our Supplying 95% Of The Coins & Currency In The Catalogs. In order to do this — WE MUST BUY. The rarer or choicer the coin or note, the closer margin we are willing to work on in order to "have it." MAKE US PROVE THIS. We can arrange to inspect (and buy) your collection anywhere in the U. S. If necessary, we can be virtually anywhere within 24 hours by air.

NUMISMATIC REVIEW, VOL. II, NO. 5

The Galleries Mail Bid Sale will have closed shortly after the Numismatist arrives to stuff your Mail Boxes. A report on it will be contained in the fifth issue of the Review that will shortly go to press. This issue will have all sorts of things in it. Among the major offerings will be an unusual group of Polish Coins, a selection of which are listed below. One look at the prices and some of you will be wondering if specializing in Polish is the sport of Millionaires. Not so. We have only listed the extreme rarities here. There are plenty at more modest prices. We don't list them here because the Business Manager of the Numismatist sends us a bill for this advertisement each month. As a matter of "Commercial Posture" we feel that the prices of the coins offered should at least equal his bill.

When YOU think of selling . . .

Think of EMPIRE first

It makes good sense

Empire offers you:

- ★ Experience – Our staff members have intimate knowledge of all United States series . . . not only the standard copper, silver and gold coins, but the more diverse series such as colonials, patterns, territorial gold, etc. As one of the largest rare coin dealers we have an up-to-the-minute knowledge of the coin market.
- ★ Fairness – Empire will make a FAIR AND HONEST offer for your coins. We invite you to compare our offer with as many other dealers as you wish. We can stand the test. During the past year we have purchased more than 80% of the collections offered to us. There must be a reason . . . and the reason is our willingness to make a fair and high offer based on our examination of the collection.
- ★ Prompt Payment – We will make a definite, firm offer for your collection. If our offer is accepted you will be paid immediately . . . whether your collection is worth $2,500.00 or $250,000.00. If you are interested in selling by auction we offer that service also . . . but if you want a definite price for your coins without waiting and returned coins we suggest the direct purchase method.

If you are contemplating the sale of your collection, let an Empire representative discuss our direct purchase – immediate payment method of buying. You will be assured of a pleasant, honest and confidential transaction. May we look forward to the pleasure of receiving a letter or telephone call from you?

KENNEDY AND LINCOLN MEDALS

STILL AVAILABLE IN BRONZE

To date, all platinum and silver medals in the Presidential Art Series have been SOLD OUT. Currently, Kennedy and Lincoln bronze medals are available at a cost of $2.50 EACH. The Kennedy bronze medal is the medal that President Kennedy purchased to distribute on his mission to Europe last Spring.

These medals, like all medals in the series whether platinum, silver or bronze, contain unusually high STANDARDS OF WORKMANSHIP and FINE HIGH RELIEF SCULPTURING. These qualities, plus the fact that the precious medals (platinum and silver) are produced in LIMITED QUANTITIES, contribute to the increasing value of the medals.

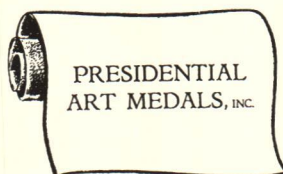

Both the Kennedy and Lincoln medals were struck by the MEDALLIC ART COMPANY, the only American company devoted exclusively to sculptured bas-relief. The intricate design and sculpture work was done by MR. RALPH MENCONI, an internationally recognized sculptor in the field of full portrait and high relief work.

The Presidential Art Medal Series is a CONTINUING PROGRAM in which three or four medals will be struck each year until the program is complete. New medals will be struck thereafter as Presidents are inaugurated.

This exclusive offering will be a treasured possession whether you desire only one or the entire series. The PRACTICAL SIZE of the medals (slightly larger than a half dollar) makes them particularly well suited to display in an album, which will be offered in early December.

Orders are filled as received. We suggest that you select and order your Presidential Medals today. Ohio residents add 3% sales tax. DEALERS' INQUIRIES ARE INVITED.

Washington Medal Scheduled for December. In early December, Presidential Art Medals, Inc., will introduce the George Washington medal . . . third in the series. This medal will contain the same high standards of workmanship and fine high relief sculpturing as its predecessors in the series . . . the Kennedy and Lincoln medals.

"A MUST IN EVERY COIN COLLECTOR'S LIBRARY" The United States Trade Dollar

America's Only Unhonored, Unwanted Coin

A fascinating history of the use of silver coinage in world trade, and why the United States, in the bonanza silver period of the 1870s, minted a special silver dollar actually called the Trade Dollar.

Intended for use in the Orient, it was, for a time, legal tender in the United States and a hot political issue until 1887.

Fully illustrated, 216 pp., and heavily annotated for historian, economist and numismatist. Limited edition. $10.00 postpaid. Copies numbered and signed by author.

READ THE EXCELLENT REVIEWS THIS BOOK HAS RECEIVED!

"The literature of coin collecting in the United States is coming of age. Crosby, Carothers, Sheldon, Breen, Newman and now Willem have all made scholarly contributions to the literature of our authorized coinages. A surge of collector interest in trade dollars is now easily predictable, because the pleasures of collecting are so much enhanced by the story behind the coinage now available in Willem's The United States Trade Dollar."

— Raymond H. Williamson

"... truly astonishing work. Well printed, superbly produced. The author has every right to be proud of what is an important and much needed addition to American numismatic literature."

— J. Hunt Deacon, F.R.N.S.
The Numismatic Society of South Australia

"A well compiled and informative work which should interest all serious students of American numismatics. '... idea of book's magnitude gleaned from chapter headings.'"

— Quarterly,
American Numismatic Society

"A must in every coin collector's library."
— The Scrapbook

"The author of this book set out to gather all the facts about this strange chapter in our currency history and to present those facts in a final history. He has succeeded admirably. Rare photographs. Extraordinary volume of documents and contemporary records. John Willem undertook a very difficult task. He did a splendid job."

— Dr. Neil Carothers

"I can honestly say that I have learned more of the aspects and vagaries of U. S. coinage from your pages than from any other source that has met my eye. If the book does not take its place with the classics of numismatics, I miss my guess."

— G. R. L. Potter
Ottawa, Canada

"A book of this kind has a double appeal, both as a distinct contribution to the monetary history of the United States and as a numismatic work of the first water."

— The Numismatist

I have again been granted the privilege of conducting the auction sale at this convention. Many of the leading department stores from coast to coast now have departments devoted to the sale and purchase of rare coins and stamps. These departments, which are staffed by well-informed, trained, professional numismatists speaking your own language, are fully equipped to serve all classes of coin collectors from the beginner to the old timer.

Each one of these coin and stamp departments maintains a complete stock of coins, currency, medals, tokens etc. — U. S., foreign and ancient in all metals and from all ages. They also carry the various official commemorative medals that are issued from time to time.

The quality coin albums of the Library of Coins are featured, together with other popular lines. The coin books and catalogues of all publishers are carried, as well as all kinds of numismatic accessories.

Remember, that for guaranteed satisfaction, you owe it to yourself to deal with the leading stores in the country. There is one with a coin and stamp department in or near your state.

The full facilities of these stores are available to you, including the privilege of having a regular charge account for your numismatic or other purchases.

Your personal visit, written inquiry or telephoned request will be welcome at any one of the following stores — just ask for the Coin and Stamp Department.

Useful for cleaning all kinds of coins, but particularly adapted to cleaning coins of copper or nickel.

EASY TO USE AND ECONOMICAL!
FAST ACTION — IT ACTUALLY CLEANS IN SECONDS!

Does not add shine, but brings out natural color, including original brilliance if it is still there under tarnish or coating. Dull or dark uncirculated coins become brilliant uncirculated coins in seconds.

This result of years of experiment can be safely used on valuable coins to improve their appearance and increase their value.

On sale in many leading stores in 4-oz. bottles, with full directions, at $1.00.

If your dealer does not yet have it, send us $1.00 for 3-oz. bottle (enough to clean hundreds of coins) carefully packed and postpaid to any address in the United States or Canada.

SPECIAL OFFER TO DEALERS

Send $4.00 for six 4-oz. bottles of "CCC," postpaid.

HOW I GRADE LINCOLN CENTS

Seems like this is the big thing, and even some Dealers differ on this. Coins that have nicks, digs, scratches or coins that are badly worn, or that have had defects, green, etc., are not collectable coins. I don't want them. I would if I could sell them, but I can't. So don't — Please — don't send them.

POOR, FAIR, ABOUT GOOD — I don't buy or want them; spend them.

GOOD — Worn coins, but still a collectable coin. Good date, mint mark, all writing clear, could show some wheat lines.

VERY GOOD — One-half or more wheat lines, one-half ear, etc. Must have one-half wheat.

FINE — Full wheat lines, nice rim, full hole in ear, etc.

VERY FINE — Sharp coin, sharp wheat, sharp ear, detail sharp, nice coin.

EXTREMELY FINE — Very little or no sign of wear, a well struck coin.

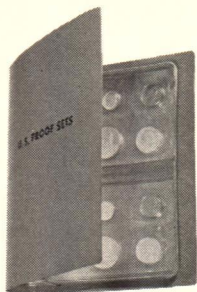

The easy way to grade coins — ask yourself, "Would I buy this coin at this grade for MY set?" One other thing, most coins have two sides, and the coin is only as good as its worst side. This means if one side is FINE and the other side is GOOD, then the coin must be graded as GOOD.
